SAFE AND SURE. Mr. H. R. Stevens: In 1872 your Vegetine was recommended to me, and, yielding to the persussions of a friend. I consented to try it. At the time I was suffering from general debility and nervous prestration, superinduced by overwork and ir egular habits. Its wonderful strengthening and curative properties seemed to affect roy debilitated system from the first dose; and under its persistent use I rapidly recovered, gaining more than usual health and good feeling. Since then I have not hesitated to give Vegetine my most unqualified endorsement, as being a cafe, sure and powerful agent in pro-moting health and restoring the wasted system to new life and onergy. Vegetine is the only medicine I use; and as long as I live I never expect to find a better. Yours truly, Alleghany, Pennsylvania.

B B B B B B B The following letter from Rev. G. W. Mans-field, formerly paster of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Hyde Park, and at present settled in Lowell, must convince every one who reads his letter of the wonderful curative qualities of Vegetine as a thorough closser and purifier of the blood. Hyde Park, Mass., Feb. 15, 1876.

Mr. H. R. Stevens,
Dear Sir: About ten years ago my health failed through the depleting effects of dyspepais; nearly a year later I was attacked by typhoidfaver to its worst form. It settled in my back, and took the form of a large deep-section abscess. which was lifteen months in gathering. I had two surgical operations by the best skill in the state, but received no permanent cure. I suffered great pain at times, and was constantly weak-ened by a profuse discharge. I also lost small phaces of bone at different times.

Matters ran on thus for about seven years, till

May, 1874, when a friend recommended me to go to your office, and talk with you on the virtus of Vegetine. I did so, and by your kindness passed through your manufactory, noting the ingredients, &c., by which your remady is pro-By what I saw and heard I gained some conflonce in Vegetine.
I commenced taking it soon after, but felt worse from its effects; still I perserved, and soon feet it was bon-fitting me in other respects. Yet I did not see the results I desired till I had taken it faithfully for little more than a year, when the difficulty in the back was cured; for nine months i have enjoyed the host of health.

I have in that time gained twenty five pounds of flesh, being toavier than ever before in my life, and I was never more able to perform labo

During the past few weeks I had a scrofulous swelling aslarge as my flit gather on another part

How to Play Braw Poker Profitably 1. Don't buy but half as many chips at the etart as the other players. The expectation is that you will win, and if you lose it is better that you borrow or "owe" up. 2. Never ante up till some one tells you to, and then say that you have, and stick to it, which will generally persuade some one clasto "come in" twice. This rule, though an excel-lent one, must be followed with discretion. If practiced too often it is liable to produce un pleasant feelings. 3. Towards the end of the evening it is always better to "owe" up your note "for a mi-nute" than to "put" up, as the wincer of the pot frequently forgets to charge up the debt, and none of the other players will remind him, as they may wish to do the same thing. 4. When the credit system begins to ordep in, as it generally does about the middle of the game, you should "owe up" if possible, and bet obiefly against those who always "put up."

This is one of the most important rules. To win in cash and lose on credit is the greatsceret of successful poker playing. 5. In dealing always observe the bettom card, which you can easily do before the cut.

Then, by noticing how thick a cut is made, you can tell whether that card goes out. This may belp you in the draw. 6. Keepa sharp eyo on the disourds. This may be of service if your draw is not satisfac-

San Franciso Chroneils. THE INDIAN PASSION FOR LARCENY .- The passion of a coolemporaneous American savaga for stealing is inesistable. In order to its indulg ence he will risk his if , and even take large odds scaines it almost any tions. The recent feat of an Apache Ludiau in Arizona i lus rates Au American had a runeam on which n herd of four handred fine cattle, belonging to a fort pear by, were nightly kept. To secure hem against the Apaches he had tuilt a block house and adjoining it a court yard and corrat. surrounded by an adoba wall. Several vain attempts had been made by the Indians to dap ture the hard while grazing two or three unites from the block house, but the visitant herdamen had driven the cattle into the cerral before they could be stampeded. One stormy night, however, a solitary Apache, unarmed and covered only with a blanker. climbed over the wall, cranched in a carner, and waited for the day. Soon after dawn eight herdsmer, mounted and armed to the touth, were ready to protect the cattle. As these passed out of the gate, the savage sprung apvaulted on the nearest horse, clurched its mace with one band, and waving his red blanker with the other, yelled like a domon. The horse pluoged isto the midst of the herd, which, greatly terrified, fled pell mell, and the Apache. throwing bimself on one side of the rushing soimal, rapidly disappeared from view. Noth ing could have stopped the wildly speeding cattle. The herdsmen fired at the Indian, but only wounded and killed some of the berd, at which two brods of Apaches darted out from opposive sides of the valley, soon closed and drove off irrecoverally every hoof. This feat will add another feather to the Apsobe's head, and furnish a theme for an aboriginal
